

The Minister of University and Research

To the Rectors and General Directors of Universities
To the Presidents and Directors of AFAM Institutions

Dear All,

As we start the new academic year, in order not to jeopardize the full resumption of teaching activities, I believe that it is essential to ensure strict compliance with the prevention measures already in place, and to take any actions required to stop the virus from spreading, given the national trend in the Covid-19 epidemic, with a growing number of positive cases, and some evidence of contagion among students in extra-curricular activities.

Therefore, I ask for your cooperation in recommending that students avoid crowded situations as much as possible, even off campus and in extra-curricular activities.

I am confident in your cooperation. Thank you,
Prof. Gaetano Manfredi
